

LET THE ISSUE BE FAIRLY PRESENTED.

It is apparent to everybody who is capable of thinking that the financial question is the paramount political issue of the day. Congress was convened in extraordinary session to deal with it, and the President's message was devoted to it exclusively. Since early in August it has occupied the time of the Senate and attracted more attention than any question that has been before that body for many years. It is the theme of statesmen, the press and the people. Political economists treat of it in magazines and public meetings. Some of them, National in character, have been held to express opinions upon it. As on all matters affecting the public welfare, people differ regarding its settlement. There are those who hold that gold and silver alone should be the standard of value, while others contend that the prosperity of the country depends upon making silver as well as gold a legal tender for all debts, public and private.

As is usual when there is a difference of opinion on matters which concern the country, the financial question will have to be settled at the ballot box. The action of Congress at the present session shows that it cannot be determined elsewhere. As it is the paramount question, and the welfare of the country is involved in its solution, it should be presented fairly to the people. No political trickery or deception should be countenanced in deciding it. Let those who are in favor of the free coinage of gold and silver and the use of both as legal tender money insist on having an opportunity to so declare at the ballot box.

In the last Presidential campaign the people were misled by the Democratic and Republican platforms, both of which were represented as pledging the respective parties to free coinage. The attitude of the Administration and the votes of the representatives of the two parties show that the platforms are construed differently in Washington from what they were on the stump. The people should not permit themselves to be again duped by the politicians. They now fully understand that neither Republicans nor Democrats favor the free coinage of silver. The vote in the House of Representatives shows that nine-tenths of the Republicans and nearly two-thirds of the Democrats in that body are against free coinage, and that the only hope of restoring silver to its old standard as a money metal lies in the success of the Populists.

GLOOM AND GLADNESS.

The announcement by Mr. Carlisle, the President's message bearer, that the Autocrat of the White House has put his foot down and will make no more appointments until a vote is taken on the repeal bill, has produced alternate streaks of gloom and gladness throughout the land. The Republican members of the Wall street brigade, who are feasting and fattening at the public crib, are wreathed in smiles, while dejection is visible on every lineament of the lank Democratic adherents of the goldbug cause. The Republican office-holders now express hope that Stewart and Allen, Morgan and Butler, and Teller and Wolcott will be endowed with supernatural endurance and that each will talk a week against the Repeal bill, while the Democrats who expect office fervently wish that Sherman and Hoar, and Voorhees and Gorman would force Czar Reed's gag rules on the Senate and compel a vote to be taken on the bill.

The determination of the President has caused a change which may influence some of the Senators. Everything that the office-holders can do to prolong the debate and prevent a vote being taken will be done, while the power of the office seekers will be exerted to force a vote. Possibly the decree that no more appointments will be made at present may be in conformity with an understanding with the twenty-six Republicans who are supporting the Administration in the Senate that their friends are to be retained in office indefinitely as a reward for their faithful service, or the declaration may have been made to intimidate Democratic Senators who are holding out against Wall street while being importuned by place hunters, who care more for office than the public welfare, to secure them positions if they expect their support in future elections. However that may be, the announcement that no more appointments will be made has steadied the nerves of many a trembling office holder and given the tremors to twice as many office seekers. The decree may cause dissensions in the ranks of the Wall street combination as it is too much to expect those who are jubilant and those who are despondent to blend their voices in praising the President.

SENATOR MORGAN has introduced a bill to provide for the control of the Union Pacific and the Central Pacific railroads. It increases the directory of each road to fifteen members, five of whom are to be chosen by the stockholders of the roads and ten to be appointed by the President of the United States. The directory are not to own stock in either road and are to receive a salary of $10,000 each and traveling expenses to be paid by the railroad companies. It is similar to the bill introduced by Senator Morgan at the last session of Congress.

THE BRAZILIAN WAR.

Diplomatic Corps Disgusted With President Peixoto.

AN EFFORT TO COMPROMISE.

Feeding Tramps—The New Chinese Bill Satisfactory.

THE BRAZILIAN WAR.

Trenchery Displayed Toward the European Diplomatic Corps.

MONTVIDEO, Uruguay, October 18.—The European Diplomatic Corps are disgusted with President Peixoto of Brazil. Their proposal to land troops was based on an agreement with Peixoto that he would dismount all of the shore batteries, and not put them into action again. They soon learned that his agents at his direction were secretly erecting a new battery. The foreign representatives declared all negotiations suspended. Peixoto made new promises and the diplomats entered into a new agreement.

The Government officials report that fire was opened on Niteroy by the insurgent fleet in an attempt to dislodge Peixoto's troops stationed there, but it was not successful. The insurgents deny that the attempt was made. Mello's forces are now in possession of the naval depot at Armacao. This is an important acquisition. The Government's forts in the harbor fired on Villegaignon and the fleet. The heavy guns of the warships were no well handled, but many of the shots were effective.

The gunners in Fort Santa Cruz and the other forts were not so skillful in manning the guns of the forts, but those of the rebel fort, Villegaignon, were well served, and their fire against the other forts were destructive.

News has been received of the capture of Duestro by Mello's fleet. The garrison declared for the revolutionary leader. Admiral Mello is still stationed outside of Rio, where he prevents ships loaded with provisions entering Rio or discharging their cargoes so as to aid the loyal garrison in Fort Santa Cruz.

Advices confirming the capture of Santa Catharina by the revolutionists, which had been denied, have been received. The troops in the garrison have joined the insurgents. Another artillery duel with the forts is expected. Business houses in Rio have shut down. No letters are allowed across the Republic. Rio newspapers have been attacked by the Government for printing truthful reports of the revolution.

"AN ASTUTE POLITICIAN."

That's What Morgan Calls Him. WASHINGTON, October 18.—Morgan of Alabama addressed the Senate on Dolph's motion to amend Monday's journal so as to show the presence of Allen at 6:30 P. M. of that day. Allen having failed to answer when his name was called. Morgan devoted most of his remarks to a reply to Hill's speech of yesterday, taking occasion to characterize the latter as an astute politician rather than a fair-minded lawyer in twisting the decision of the Supreme Court to serve his purpose, adding that it took an easy conscience to follow the Supreme Court in all its decisions.

Morgan continued at great length, touching on his part in the rebellion, of which he said he was not ashamed. He said the clock had struck at the White House and the cuckoos in the Senate had put their heads out of the box and responded and informed us of the time of day.

At the conclusion of Morgan's speech Voorhees moved to lay on the table the motion of Dolph to amend the journal. Agreed to. Yeas 45, nays 3.

Teller moved to amend the journal so it would show his presence on a certain roll call when he did not respond to his name. Speaking to his motion Teller resented the interference of the President and Secretary Carlisle with legislation in the Senate, and said the Senate would not be brought into disrepute by the misconduct of one or a dozen Senators, but would be if it allowed the Executive or members of his Cabinet to usurp legislative functions, or allowed itself to be stamped by boards of trade and the like.

Feeding Tramps.

TUCSON, A. T. October 18.—To-night at 9:30 a gang of sixty tramps arrived on an overland freight from California. They were given bread by the authorities. The railroad has of late permitted the traveling of tramps in gangs on freights. In the past two weeks 500 have passed through Tucson east-bound. They are all given bread, but are not allowed the freedom of the city.

Don't Want Non-Residents Included. WASHINGTON, October 18.—The bill which recently passed the House suspending for the year the operation of the mining laws which require $100 worth of work on every mining claim meets with opposition from the miners of the Black Hills, South Dakota, who insist that the benefits of the bill shall not extend to non-residents.

THE STEERING COMMITTEE AT WORK.

Making an Effort to Compromise. WASHINGTON, October 18.—Vest is circulating a call for a caucus of all Democratic Senators. It pledges them to abide by the result, if any is reached. The silver men signed it readily, but the repeal men are holding off. It is doubtful whether Gorman will issue the call unless the desire for it seems pretty general, as it is likely to do more harm than good.

The Democratic Senators have again put the steering committee to work upon the silver problem, with the understanding that the committee is also to make recommendations as to whether a Democratic conference shall be called upon the subject. The committee is making an effort to agree upon a compromise measure which the repeal Democrats will accept for submission to the proposed conference in case it is called. Opinions differ as to whether there will be a formal conference or a compromise submitted to individual Democratic members of the Senate for indorsement. Preponderance of opinion is favorable to the conference plan. The committee has been sitting during the greater part of the day.

THE NEW CHINESE BILL.

The President is Perfectly Satisfied With It.

WASHINGTON, October 18.—President Cleveland is perfectly satisfied with the new Chinese bill which passed the House Monday. He so announced to Chairman McCreary of the House Foreign Affairs Committee at the White House. He further indicated in his conversation with McCreary that the compromise that had been effected by which the California delegation had been permitted to add all its amendments to the McCreary substitute was the best way out of the difficulty. Now that there was an amicable agreement on this point he had no fear for the future.

The President also told McCreary, now that the Chinese would be given another opportunity to register, that they must either do so or the law would be put into full force immediately after the expiration of the six months' time granted the Celestials in which to comply with the registration clause. The bill as it passed the House was reported to the Senate to-day. It will go before the Foreign Affairs Committee to-morrow.

Denouncing Gladstone.

LONDON, October 17.—Lord Salisbury, speaking at Preston, denounced the action of the Government in driving the Home Rule bill through the Commons to the exclusion of graver subjects. Lord Salisbury said the attacks on the Lords was a cowardly expedient to avoid consulting the country. He admitted the Lords was not perfect, but he insisted that its existence was necessary to guard against one man power. If, however, the Home Rule bill does not appear at the next session of Parliament, it must be regarded as having been abandoned.

"In examining this measure you will not only consider its effects, but its weight and external effects," said he. "If you look abroad you will see the necessity for maintaining the power and prestige of England. If you will consider what has been passing in Asia and what is now passing in the Mediterranean, you must agree that this is not the moment when England should put off her armor or appear in the sight of foreign nations weaker than she has been."

ARIZONA is desirous of becoming a State. It has been decided to hold a convention at Phoenix November 27th to express the wishes of the people on the subject and memorialize Congress for admission into the Union. The Territory has a larger population and more taxable property than Wyoming when it was admitted in 1890.

The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them, and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance. Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles. CHINESE REGISTRATION.

The Amendments to the Geary Exclusion Act.

The bill which has just passed the House of Representatives to amend the Geary act, and which extends the time for registration six months and defines the term laborer, is as follows:

SECTION 1. That Section 6 of the act entitled "an act to prohibit the coming of Chinese persons into the United States," approved May 5th, 1892, is hereby amended so as to read as follows: Section 6. And it shall be the duty of all Chinese laborers within the limits of the United States entitled to remain in the United States before the passage of the act to which this act is an amendment to apply to the Collectors of Internal Revenue of their respective districts within six months after the passage of this act for a certificate of residence, and any Chinese laborer within the limits of the United States who shall fail, or neglect, or refuse to comply with the provisions of this act and the act to which this is an amendment, or who, after the expiration of six months shall be found within the jurisdiction of the United States without such certificate of residence, shall be deemed and adjudged to be unlawfully within the United States and may be arrested by any United States Customs official, Collector of Internal Revenue or his deputies, United States Marshal or his deputies, and taken before the United States Judge, whose duty it shall be to order that he be deported from the United States, as provided by this act and the act to which this is an amendment, unless he shall show clearly to the satisfaction of said Judge that by reason of accident, sickness or other unavoidable cause he has been unable to procure a certificate, and shall show to the satisfaction of the United States Judge by at least one credible witness other than Chinese that he was a resident of the United States on May 5, 1892, and if upon hearing it shall appear that he is entitled to a certificate it shall be granted upon his paying the costs.

Should it appear that said Chinaman had procured a certificate which had been lost or destroyed, he shall be detained and judgment suspended a reasonable time to enable him to procure a duplicate from the officer granting it, and in such case the cost of arrest and trial shall be in the discretion of the Judge. Any Chinese person other than a Chinese laborer having the right to be and remain in the United States and desiring such certificate as evidence of such right may apply for and receive the same without charge, and no proceeding for violations of the provisions of said Section 6 of said Act as originally enacted shall hereafter be instituted, and all proceedings for said violation now pending are hereby discontinued.

Sec. 2. The words "laborer" or "laborers," wherever used in this Act, or in the Act to which this is an amendment, shall be construed to mean both skilled and unskilled manual laborers, including Chinese employed in mining, in fishing, bookbinding, peddling, laundrymen, or those engaged in taking and drying or otherwise preserving shell or other fish for home consumption or exportation.

WHAT CHEMISTRY DETERMINES.

Crops Do Not Rob the Soil of Plant Food.

Chemists have determined that crops do not rob the soil of plant food. On the contrary, the production of crops adds plant food to the soil, even where the crops are, for years, removed from the fields. Why, then, do the soils wear out and become unproductive? The worn out soils are as full of plant food, or the materials found in plants by chemical analysis, as are the virgin soils. These facts certainly prove that the plants are not fed from the soil but from the atmosphere, and that the soil is incapacitated for doing its part in drawing nutriment from the atmosphere for the plant. A false system of cultivation is certainly the cause, and we should study nature's system. The forests do not wear out the soils in which they grow, but enrich them. Of their growths they return to the soil only their leaves, and if their woody substances came from the soil, the latter would become unproductive. May not the mistake of agriculturists be in turning the soil? That is not nature's way. Top soils are certainly fitted for top roots of plants, while lower soils are fitted for bottom roots. That appears to be true where nature's plan of cultivation is not interfered with by man. Soils become packed, hardened and therefore unproductive, but may they not be loosened and pulverized without inverting them? Possibly turning the soil up side down is as deleterious to the plant as standing on his head would be to the plowman.

An Afflicted Child.

Hazel is suffering from a peculiar blindness, produced by a shock to her nerves resulting from a fall some time ago; and Mrs. Zimmer took her to San Francisco to place her under the care of Dr. Barker, a well-known oculist of that place. YOUNG FAIR ARRESTED.

Taken Off the Train on a Charge of Insanity.

Charles L. Fair, son of the ex-Senator, started for the East and Europe Monday evening, leaving Oakland at 5:30 p. m., over the southern route, with his wife. Before his departure, the young man visited the office of an attorney and signed papers transferring all the property that he now has or at any future time he may be possessed of. He also made his will, in which Mrs. Fair is the sole legatee. Young Fair left his creditors in the lurch and seemed to be very careful about concealing his movements from them. He did not even inform his most intimate friends what his intentions were. Certain friends of young Fair, however, were looking for him to look him up and bring him to his senses. As a means of financial security when he would reach the other side of the Atlantic, Charles took a certified copy of his late mother's will along with him, which he intended to use in case he wished to negotiate abroad the inheritance of $1,000,000 which he is to receive from his mother's estate when he reaches the age of 35 years.

Mrs. Fair stated to an Examiner reporter that she and her husband would be gone for a year and a half or two years, and would stop at the Continental hotel in Paris.

When the train on which the couple were had reached Port Costa, a Deputy Sheriff got aboard and took forcible possession of Fair and removed him from the train, his wife getting off on her own accord. The charge on which the young man was arrested is said to be insanity. He was taken to San Francisco, where he now is, Mrs. Fair following him there.

IMPORTANCE OF PUNCTUATION.

The Value of Exactness in Language.

Few persons realize the value of exactness in use of language, punctuation, interrogation marks, exclamation points and parentheses.

An exchange says a London barber, to attract customers, exhibited a sign on which was painted: "What do you think for a penny this barber will shave you and give you a drink." He was overheard to say to a customer: "You can wait with work, but each man who came tended for the rendered 'shave' a penny and demanded a drink. The barber had lots of trouble in making them understand that the true meaning of his sign was: 'What! Do you think for a penny, this barber will shave you and give you a drink.'"

On Valencia street, San Francisco is a sign, "Boots and shoes blacked inside." Most persons, who wear white socks, would rather have them blacked outside.

A man wrote to his friend who keeps a country store: Send me ten pounds of sugar and five of pork I cannot come for them to-day as my wife had a child also a monkey wrench and a coil of barbed wire.

A VALUABLE FIND.

Eight Sacks of Rich Ore Found in an Abandoned Shaft.

Superintendent Leggett and Foreman Roy of the Standard Consolidated mine at Bodie found eight sacks of ore in an abandoned cross-cut on the 400-foot level of the mine the other day. How long the ore had been there is not known, though it is probable that some one hid it years ago with the intention of stealing it from the mine when favorable opportunity presented itself. The ore is very rich, and some of it is said to be the richest found in the camp. The value of the find is variously estimated from $7,000 to $10,000.—Hawthorne Bulletin.

The reader of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Our respectability as fashion caterers, and the knowledge that we are looked to for all that's new, fashionable and correct by the ladies of this vicinity, at the beginning of each season, is one which we keenly appreciate. The honor of introducing to this territory the new thought of the civilized world, as the seasons roll around, impels us to greater, broader and more comprehensive ideas, and an excusable pride in excelling even ourselves. For weeks the fashion chrysalis has been steadily developing at THE PALACE, and

ON TUESDAY, OCTOBER 24, it burst forth in a glorious constellation of bright and beautiful things, showering and deluging each department, filling shelves and counters with strangers anxious for an introduction into America's good graces, and will continue through the season.
